BIG SUCCESS

Was Band Benefit At Gem Thursday
Afternoon and Evening—Nice
Sum Realized For Uniform Fund.

Thursday afternoon and evening the Maysville Brass Band gave a benefit performance at the pretty little Gem Theater. Manager Mills donated the proceeds to the cause. Shortly after 1 o'clock the band gave a concert in front of the theater and soon had a large crowd about the entrance. At 1:30 the show began. "The Vanderhoff Affair," a four-reel Broadway favorite feature was the headliner on the program. This was followed by a beautiful solo by Mr. Raymond Muse, the talented tenor singer of the Maysville Band. After Mr. Muse the Vitaphone comedy, "Back to the Primitive," featuring Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew, was shown. During the run of the pictures a nine-piece orchestra composed of the members of the band, played several popular selections.

The evening performance drew large crowds and the theater was packed to the doors several times. A quartet composed of Messrs. Raymond Muse, Nelson Bratton, Reese Ellis and Glen Mearns, delighted the audiences with their singing of the two popular selections, "John Brown's Body" and "Under the Lilacs." The total proceeds of the performances will amount to a tidy sum as a foundation for the purchase of the uniforms for the organization.

ROUSING MEETING

Maysville Chamber of Commerce
Elects Officers At Thursday Night Meeting—Splendid
Selection of Leaders
Is Made.

Thursday evening at the courthouse the first regular meeting of the new Maysville Chamber of Commerce was held.

The meeting was called to order by Organizer Chaffee, who explained the reasons for the meeting in a few brief words. An outline of the work of the organization was also given, and if half of the plans are carried out, Maysville will be improved 100 per cent.

Following this a letter from Hon. J. Wesley Lee, Mayor of Maysville, was read, telling the body of his being called away to Cincinnati to the annual meeting of the Interstate Water Rates Association, and regretting very much his being unable to attend the meeting of the Chamber.

Following this, the election of officers was held. Several fine selections were made for the office of president, and when the votes were counted Mr. E. T. Kirk proved the winner. After a close race, Mr. Thomas H. Gray was chosen vice president, while Mr. Thomas A. Keith was elected treasurer.

Following the election of officers, the selection of a board of directors of the organization was held. After much balloting the following splendid selection was made:

Director of Organization—W. D. Cochran.

Director of Business Affairs—A. L. Merz.

Director of Civic Work—W. Holton Key.

Director of Agricultural Affairs—Hon. Stanley F. Reed.

Director of Industrial Work—H. J. Cochran.

The reading of a very liberal letter from Mr. M. A. Swift, of the M. A. Swift Drug Company, offering the rooms over his establishment on the corner of Market and Second streets as offices for the body free of charge for the ensuing year was well received. This matter was referred to the board of directors.

This ended all the regular business of the meeting and it was adjourned. Every one who attended the meeting was very enthusiastic over the outcome and especially over the election of officers. It seems to be the opinion of all that with this splendid body of leaders that the course of the new Maysville Chamber of Commerce will be one of success.

ENGINE DERAILED.

C. & O. engine No. 939 was derailed at Zweigart's crossing in the West End Thursday evening about 7 o'clock. Traffic was delayed about two hours while the engine was placed back on the track.

FLYNN AFTER CONSPIRATORS

William J. Flynn, chief of the United States secret service, has taken personal charge of the hunt for the instigators of the plot to dynamite ships of the allies leaving the United States with arms for the allied armies and which has resulted in the arrest of Robert Fay, Walter Scholz and others in New York. The case is about the most important of the secret service work now and Chief Flynn is in almost daily conference with the government officials in Washington.

PROHIBITION

State Wide Bill Will Be Submitted To
The Next Session of Kentucky
General Assembly.

Upon her return to Lexington from California, where she attended the National W. C. T. U. convention, Mrs. Frances E. Beauchamp, president of the Kentucky W. C. T. U., announced that it was the intention of the organization to submit a bill for State wide prohibition before the 1916 Legislature, and also a bill providing for the separation of boys and girls confined in houses of reform at Greendale, Fayette county.

BEAUTIFUL WEDDING.

Miss Florence Carpenter, aged 25, and Mr. Jasper Tucker, aged 28, were quietly married at the parsonage of the Third Street M. E. church Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. Rev. J. M. Litalat officiating. The bride is one of Maysville's most popular young women, and is a daughter of Mrs. Virginia Carpenter. The groom is one of Orangeburg's most prominent farmers and son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tucker. The bride wore a midnight blue suit with hat to match. The groom wore a Russian blue suit. The happy couple will leave tomorrow for the West, where they will stay for a few days and then make their future home where the groom has located a beautiful residence.

TENDERS RESIGNATION.

Miss Ethel Owens, who for several years has been the competent stenographer and clerk at the High School, has tendered her resignation to take effect the last of this month. Miss Owens for several years, through her efficiency and business ability, has held this very important position. Her pleasant manner and smiling countenance will be sadly missed in the superintendent's office by the school children at the High School. She was ever ready to make their task light by lending a helping hand. Whatever is her future, we predict and hope success comes to her.

AGED CITIZEN OF COUNTY DIES.

Mr. Thomas H. Rye, aged 68, one of the most respected citizens of the county, passed away at his home near Washington on Thursday about noon, after a prolonged illness of several months. The funeral will be held from the residence of Mrs. Carolina Downing, in the county, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment in the Washington cemetery.

THIRD STREET M. E. CHURCH REVIVAL.

The Rev. D. Wendel Brown is still drawing people to the services at the Third Street M. E. church. His subject Thursday night was "Is Your Title Clear?" It was clear, logical and heart searching. At the close there was a very interesting altar service. Make your arrangements to attend these services.

ARRESTED MAN REFUSES TO GIVE NAME.

Chief of Police James Mackey arrested a man Thursday evening who was creating a disturbance in one of the business houses on Market street. When placed in the county jail the fellow refused to give his name. In searching him Chief Mackey found a large sum of money on his person.

Rev. E. L. Williams, pastor of the Second M. E. church, South, was called to Paintsville Thursday by a telegram announcing his father's death.

Basket Ball Notes

MAYSVILLE AND GERMANTOWN TEAMS MEET TODAY.

This afternoon, weather permitting, the fast second team of the Maysville High School will journey to Germantown to meet the first team of the Germantown High School on the Germantown outdoor field. This game will probably decide the championship of Mason county, as Maysville and Germantown have both trimmed Mayslick and have not lost a game to any team in the county.

The winner of this game will have the lump on any team for the county championship. Coach Dale, of M. H. S., has whipped the second team of the local High School in shape until it makes the first team hop to trim them in a practice game.

Several of the players on the second quintet are only kept off the first aggregation because of their lack of weight. When teamwork is taken into consideration the second team has it on any High School in this vicinity, and if the dope is not very badly upset they will walk off with the game at Germantown this afternoon.

The first team of the Maysville High School will take on the fast Brooksville High School team this evening at the M. H. S. gymnasium. This game promises to be fast and exciting, as both teams are in good condition and will fight until the finish. Coach Dale hopes to run up a big score on the Bracken county boys and has coached his men to play fast and hard. The following will probably play in the game: Capt. Hampton and Edward Parker, forwards; Clarence Wood, center; Charles Kerr and Henry Shea, guards. The game will be called at 7:30. Prof. G. C. Mance will referee the game.

NEARING COMPLETION

Work On Model Road Will Soon Be Completed—Will Probably Be Thrown Open To Public Use About December 10.

Work on the mile and a half of model road south of this city on the Maysville and Mt. Sterling turnpike is about finished.

All about a hundred yards of rock have been placed on the roadbed and as soon as the weather permits, this will be finished.

Already the Merrill Company, the firm that has the contract for the asphalt body on the road, have started to work.

Their method of placing the asphalt on the roadbed is very novel and well worth going far to see.

The asphalt comes to this city in a railroad tank car and is in a semi-solid form.

The car was sidetracked in the C. & O. yards in the old coal elevators on Limestone street. Here steam connections were made with the big boilers of the Mason Lumber Company, and the asphalt is melted by circulating hot steam through coils of pipes in the car.

After being heated the melted asphalt is placed in a tank fitted up for the purpose on the large truck of Farrow & Company.

In this way the oil is conveyed to the pike in a boiling heat.

As soon as it is taken to the works, a small but powerful blower is placed on the rear of the auto tank and all the dust is blown off the pike before the asphalt is poured on.

An engine with the pressure of several hundred pounds is required for the work.

As soon as the oil touches the raw pike it sinks into the loosely laid rock covering and when cooled makes a solid pike that will resist all water.

The method that is used in placing the asphalt on the pike has attracted many and every day the pike is lined with spectators watching the work.

As soon as the contractors have finished with the asphalt work the pike will be thrown open to the public. This will be about the second week in December, if the weather conditions do not delay the work.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH SOCIAL.

Although the weather is not as favorable as desired, the social planned for the members and friends of the Christian church, will be held in the church this evening. The members, both old and young active and inactive, as well as all the older members of the Bible school and any others who are close friends of this church, are requested to be present from 7 to 9 tonight.

SOMETHING DOING.

Thursday afternoon we noticed four Councilmen with their heads together whispering and motioning as if they had something up their sleeves. As far as we are able to find out there will be a hot session at the next meeting of the City Council.

Five loads of tobacco were received at two Lexington warehouses late Monday. These are the first deliveries of the season, all having been stripped since the week.

STATE CONFERENCE

Of Boys To Be Held In Paris From November 26 To 28.

Thursday afternoon P. L. Corbin, traveling secretary of Y. M. C. A. work, addressed the boys of the High School regarding the Fourth Annual State Conference of Older Boys, to be held at Paris, November 26 to 28.

The Paris High School Club and Y. M. C. A., and Paris churches are making arrangements and are expecting to entertain 400 out-of-town delegates. Mr. Corbin wants Maysville to send a bunch.

Who May Attend.

Delegates from all high and preparatory schools, boys' clubs, Boy Scouts, Sunday school boys with proper credentials. Delegates must be 15 years of age or over. Here is a chance, Mr. Sunday School Superintendent to do good work by sending a delegate from your school. All expenses amount to $3.20.

You will hear some great speakers, such men as L. W. Dunn, Blake W. Godfrey, Hon. J. C. W. Beckham, Hon. W. J. Bryan and other men of note.

What is the object of all this?

It is to plan a campaign by which we may elevate the use of our State, creating, maintaining and extending throughout our schools high standards of Christian character. To discuss together our points of strength and weakness, to mingle with each other in three days of pleasant fellowship, and to form friendships with others throughout the State who are interested with us in the highest things.

The boys will have a great time. Maysville should send a good delegation.

Paris is the place, November 26 to 28 is the time and $3.20 pays all expenses from the time you leave until you return.

PENNY LUNCH BENEFIT.

Monday evening, November 22, under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association, the children of the First District school, will give an entertainment at the school building at 7 o'clock.

The children of the various grades are preparing quite an interesting program, well worth the price of admission, 15 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. There will be cakes and candies for sale. The response we have received in the past is an inspiration to continue our efforts in the support of the penny lunch, which has done so much to build up the general condition of the school.

Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Stahl are at home from a visit to Lima, O., where the former officiated at a church wedding in which his niece was the bride.

RESOLUTIONS.

At a called meeting of the officers and directors of the Mason County Building & Savings Association, the following resolution were adopted:

The sudden death of our esteemed associate, Robert B. Lovel, is a source of great regret to the members of this board.

We bear testimony to his long and faithful service in the Board of Directors of the Mason County Building & Savings Association.

He was always courteous and affable in his intercourse with the members.

He was a safe adviser in the conduct of his affairs, always prudent and conservative in making loans, and his large and varied experience fitted him for the discharge of the duties of the office of director which he performed with fidelity.

Resolved, That the above minute be spread upon our records and a copy be sent to his family and furnished the daily papers for insertion.

Resolved, That this board attend the funeral services of our deceased friend in a body.

J. F. BARBOUR, President.

Thomas M. Russell, Secretary.

QUIETLY MARRIED.

Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the parlors of the Third Street M. E. church parsonage on Wall street, Rev. J. M. Litalat united in marriage Miss Ethel Rees and Walter Jenkins, of this city. The bride was gown in a blue traveling suit and the groom wore the conventional black. The attendants were Miss Ethel Grimes and Mrs. Charles Foemer, of this city.

THE COST OF SCHOOL LIFE.

A friend who attended one of the high school dances in a neighboring city, was a good deal scandalized by what seemed to him the extravagant dressing of the girls. He came home telling how nearly all these young women wore silk gowns. It looked to him as if a workingman must pay many extravagant costs to put a girl through a high school, unless she was to be made socially uncomfortable.

Several women who heard these observations remarked that the costs of school life were not quite in the direction that he seemed to think. A silk dress used to be considered a sign of luxury. Nowadays silks are made up simply and inexpensively. If used only as party dresses, they don't have to stand much wear, and may last for some years. It was the guess of these women that few of the dresses this man saw cost over $10.

It is, of course, a tax on a mechanic to provide his daughters with $10 dresses for school parties. But one of these frocks may last through a high school course. Meanwhile his boys, who are playing football, grubbing in the dirt, sliding to bases on the seats of their trousers, will need new pairs of shoes and trousers every month or two.

Parents who visit schools considerably are surprised at the neat appearance made by the average child. Ragged clothes are almost unknown. The youngsters are heedless in the care of their garments, which must mean incessant renewal.

The mechanic on wages running from $600 to $1,000 a year, with three or four children to put through school, has a problem on the clothes question. Every new suit usually means that the old folks have dug some of their own discarded garments out of the closets. The spruce youngsters should appreciate the shabbiness that the old folks have endured on their behalf.

If a 20,000 word communication to England constitutes a "note," how many words would it take to make a real letter?

The question is asked as to what has become of all the dancing teachers that so flourished about two years ago? Well, some of them have probably sold their automobiles and gone back to work at the ribbon counter.

The politicians are debating whether the blame for that Kansas tornado should be charged up to the Wilson administration, the Republican stand-patters or the Progressive party.

There is a great deal of talk as to safeguarding school children from fires, in spite of the feeling of the children that a burned schoolhouse is a splendid way to get an extra vacation.

It is probable that some of this opposition to preparedness would disappear by a proper distribution of the new business among the districts with influential Congressmen.

It is said that about one farmer out of four now has an automobile, but the others are still allowed to use the roads except on Sundays, holidays and Saturday afternoons.

The girls don't seem to feel really comfortable about taking a rough walk in the woods until they get on a pair of patent leather dancing pumps with high tapering heels.

Now that the candidates for 1916 are about to be picked out, it is to be hoped that the nominations for Vice President will not be determined by snapping up a cent.

In view of the enormous corn crop, the middlemen may have to offer prizes for the best essay giving excuses for the customary advance in prices.

Fun---Well Done

"Ellen, has George come home from school yet?" called Mrs. Snuggs to the servant.

"Yes ma'am," came back the answer.

"Where is he?"

"I haven't seen him."

"How do you know then that he is at home?"

"Because the cat's a-hiding under the dresser."

Wearily Voice from Doorway—"My dear sir, I have absolutely no objection to your coming here and sitting up half the night with my daughter, nor to your standing on the doorstep for three hours saying goodnight; but in consideration for the rest of the household, who wish to get to sleep, will you kindly take your elbow off the push button?"

EDITORIAL SIDELIGHTS

There are many people in this country who are slowly coming to the conclusion that Germany will win in the war in Europe, and such a conclusion would bring the United States face to face with a very grave problem. There are strong indications that Germany, in the event of victory, will demand a tremendous indemnity from this country for what she will term damages to her cause by our selling of war munitions to the allies. And in such a case the United States would have to fight or pay. The people who advocate national preparedness would naturally do much of the fighting, but would the advocates of "peace at any price" do the paying if we had nothing with which to fight? Don't leave the thinking to your neighbor, brother. Do a little yourself and give your Congressmen the benefit of your opinions.

If you know of a choice piece of scandal that would set the town by its ears, just bury it so deep it can never be resurrected and then promptly forget all about it. The good citizen uses his tongue, but never lets it wag.

If American correspondents in Europe would quit recounting their own hair-raising experiences and tell us something reliable concerning the war we would feel more inclined to cough up the subscription price of their papers.

Those cusses who are howling over the possibility of the resources of our country proving inadequate should go to work and help increase the production.

If you have a clean past you need not worry over the misfortunes of today. Your record will carry you through.

If "health is wealth," where does John D. come in?

We always admire the man who speaks well of this town, and his neighbors, and his friends, and who is slow to speak ill of other people. We of today are so prone to speak hastily and without thought of consequences that it is a relief to find one occasionally who considers the effect of his words before they are uttered. Such men are more than an asset to any town.

This country is mighty busy just now making war munitions for other countries, but we'd feel a deal safer if they made a few for Uncle Sam and then put their time to breaking up the untitled land we see on every hand.

If a foreign nation ever attacks the United States we might propose a parley and delegate to some of our valiant Congressmen the pleasing and patriotic duty of talking the enemy to death.

The tongue of the gossip is always wagging and that of the snake is always darting, and of the two the snake is the least dangerous because it has fewer victims.

The man of means is content to draw away on a 25 cent pipe, while the penniless dude puffs daintily from a scented Turkish cigarette.

If the people of this town keep on getting "gooder and gooder" the town gossips will be reduced to the dire necessity of exploiting each other.

No, we haven't the slightest objection to an inheritance tax. We'll cheerfully pay the tax as any one will leave us a million or two.

In all the world there is no man so wise but what in some things he is foolish.

When a man is a man the world will know it without his advertising the fact.

ITEMS FROM ALL AROUND

Catches Big Bass.

(Cynthiana Log Cabin.)
Clyde Gerrard caught a big bass that weighed exactly three pounds last Saturday in South Licking near the Ashbrook distillery.

Good Hog Record.

(Falmouth Outlook.)
Frank L. Aulick, of near Morgan, has a hog record that is hard to beat. He kept one sow and four pigs last fall. He now has his year's supply of meat and the same sow and five about that weigh fifty pounds each, and sold $120 worth of stock hogs in the meantime. This is what you call hog farming.

New Gas Well.

(Lewistown Leader.)
A new gas well has been opened near Diamond Springs, which is said to furnish a strong flow. This well is on the farm of Mr. Miles McPherson, some distance from the well opened some years ago and failed. It is claimed that this is the real vein and will furnish a permanent supply of gas.

It is not known what the plans of gas company are, but it is supposed that the pipes used for the old well, which are still intact, will be used for utilizing the new find.

Killed American Eagle.

(Bowling Green Messenger.)
P. D. DeWeese, a well known farmer of the Riverside vicinity, on Saturday killed a large American eagle on his farm. He sold it to Mr. Charles Enoch, to whom it was shipped by boat Saturday night. Mr. Enoch has mounted the bird, which measures six feet ten and one half inches from tip to tip and its feet are eight inches long. It is a similar bird to the one Deputy Jailer Lem Howell killed several weeks ago and which was sold to the American National Bank for $25. The eagle Mr. Howell killed measured six feet nine inches from tip to tip. Mr. Enoch offers the eagle for sale.

5,000 Bushels of Nuts.

(Shepherdsville Pioneer-News.)
One of the largest hickory nut crops ever known in the history of the country is about gathered. G. S. Patterson has sold over 800 bushels, Buky & Jeffries have shipped about 800 bushels, also G. W. Maraman & Sons have sold about 800 bushels, besides what have been gathered and sold on other markets, all together more than 5,000 bushels, and most of them bringing $1 per bushel.

Fine Rose.

(La Center Advance.)
Mrs. P. W. Emerson, of near Bandana, sent to our office last Saturday the tallest rose we have ever seen, and is probably the longest stem ever produced. It is a single stem, nine feet long, with a beautiful rose on the top of it. Mrs. Emerson says this was planted last May and has grown the entire length in six months. It is called the "Perpetual" and has a beautiful tint between a pink and red color.

Valuable Tree.

(La Center Advance.)
One of the most beautiful things in nature is a paper shell pecan tree in the orchard of P. C. Wolfe, near Ceredo, this county. The tree is about 30 years old, the top is about thirty-five feet in diameter and the trunk is perhaps twenty-five inches at the stump. In the last twenty years it has produced nineteen crops of as fine quality of the famous paper shells as one would find on their native health in the black belt of Texas. This fine tree brings us the following facts for our farmers with pecan land, and careful measurement would allow seventy of these trees to the acre. This tree will show over 200 pounds of pecans to the crop; seventy of such trees would bring a yield of 14,000 pounds of this nut; at the low price of 10 cents per pound it would make a yearly income of $1,400 per acre and would grow a good crop of cow pea hay or a fine growth of grass each year.

NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS TODAY.

November 19.

Dr. William Emerson Ritter, explorer of the ocean bottoms, who is extending biological research to the strange life in the depths, is 59 years old today. As director of the Scripps Institution for Biological Research, during the past quarter century, he has built up the great experiment station at La Jolla, near San Diego, Cal. There the animal and plant life of the sea are gathered and studied and the problems of physics, chemistry and biology, which make up the new science of oceanography, are being worked out. A big pier is now being built to accommodate the ocean going ship Alcyon, which will dredge the Pacific's bottom for treasures. Extensive additions are being made through the recent gift of Miss Ellen B. Scripps, who endowed the marine station. Scientists from all parts of the world are constant visitors. The museum has scientific treasures gathered from the far depths. Dr. Ritter conducts the marine station for the University of California, where he is professor of zoology. He was born at Hampden, Wis., November 19, 1856, and is a graduate of the University of California and Harvard. He studied at the zoological station at Naples, also at Berlin. On his return he joined the faculty of the University of California and began his remarkable work at San Diego.

Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken, the new president of Vassar college, 35 years old today.

Major General William Harding Carter, U. S. A., who retires from active service today, 64 years old today.

Dr. George W. Hunsan, president of Marietta College, Ohio, 52 years old today.

Pon. Lewis Harcourt, former Colonial secretary in the British cabinet, 52 years old today.

William Ashley Sunday, the baseball evangelist, 52 years old today.

SPECIALISTS

We are specialists in glasses. Why pay $10 to have your eyes examined for glasses when the man who makes the examination doesn't know enough about glasses to make them? If he can't understand a single lens, what do you expect him to know about a complete refracting system like the eye? Better see Simpson on your glasses and have them made right. Your family physician can give you all the medicine you need. If an operation is necessary he will tell you who is competent to do it.

GAS RATE WAR

On in a West Virginia Town, and One Company Is Supplying Churches and Schools For Nothing.

A gas rate war is on in East Bank, in West Virginia. After the Vesperine Gas Company, controlled by Col. William Seymour Edwards, had been furnishing gas there for years at 20 cents a thousand cubic feet, the Kanawha Fuel Company was granted a franchise to furnish the town's fuel supply at 15 cents.

The Vesperine Company cut its price to 15, followed by a cut of 3 cents by the Kanawha Company.

Colonel Edwards announced that his company would sell gas at 12 cents and supply all the school buildings and churches for nothing.

More men would acquire knowledge if they could absorb it without being taught.

NOW THE SHADOW STOCKING

Caprice of Fashion That Is Distinctly New and Bids Fair to Achieve Popularity.

Quite the newest fad in footwear is the shadow stocking. As its name indicates, it embraces lights and shades that run the gamut from the white in the toe to the black in the knee. Between these two extremes are introduced gray nuances, including pale daze, Quaker and battletop. The stockings are indicated by two embroidered lines of black.

This type of hosiery is intended for street wear, and may be accompanied by the black patent leather or kid low shoes, for surely there is no sense in wearing so fanciful a stocking with a high boot.

Nevertheless, as cold weather approaches, we shall see the high shoe in wider evidence than at present. Already it is protected in soft leather, not in black only, but in dark blue, bronze and other likely colors. For pedestrian uses, as well as for the skating rink, shoes will be rimmed at the top with fur.

Calot's mannikins wore brocade boots, not only with daytime models, but also with those designed for evening exploitation.

A motorcycle division will form the larger portion of the No-Tu-On street parade, which will be one of the features of a festival week to be held at Houston, Texas, the latter part of this week.

POSITIVE PROOF

Should Convince the Greatest Skeptic in Maysville

Because it's the evidence of a Maysville citizen. Testimony easily investigated. The strongest endorsement of merit. The best proof. Read it:

Mrs. Della Luneford, 328 E. Front St., Maysville, says: "I attribute kidney trouble to a strain. I had sharp, shooting pains through my kidneys and a dragging-down feeling through my hips. I had dull headaches and dizzy spells and often if I had not caught hold of something for support, I would have fallen. I was in that condition for several years, up one week and in bed the next. I finally began to notice symptoms of dropsy. My feet began to swell and my hands were at times the same way. Finally, I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER Mrs. Luneford said: "Doan's Kidney Pills completely and permanently cured me and I am glad to confirm all I said in their praise before."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Luneford has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Attractive Pincushion That Is Easy to Fashion—Sewing or Laundry Bag Well Worth the Time It Takes to Make It.

An attractive pincushion is oblong in shape, covered with pink satin, with a large flower and four buds made of ribbon attached to the center of the cushion. A proximal ring is attached at either lower end of the cushion, upon which are suspended black and white safety pins. The center of the flower is covered with pins, as are also the buds and the ends of the cushion. The cushion is suspended by means of pink satin ribbon finished with a large knotted ribbon rosette. It may be made in any color.

A new sewing bag is constructed with a metal adjustable frame which can be conveniently attached to either a table or armchair by means of two large metal books. The frame should be 12½ inches long by 5½ inches wide by 5½ inches deep. To close the bag and keep the contents free from dust, the front portion of the frame may be turned up and pressed beneath the books which hold it securely in place. They may be made of cretonne, taffeta or dimity. A laundry bag may be made in the same way.

An original debutante handbag for evening wear is made heart shape, of heavy brocade ribbon. It is ribbon trimmed and tasseled decorated.

A new and striking design for centerpieces, bureau scarfs and cushion covers is worked with moss roses, embroidered in natural colorings. The border consists of small dots and squares in blue. The work is done in satin stitch on a heavy grade of oyster linen and finished with linen fringe.

An exquisite white linen centerpiece edged with cluny lace has a circle of flowers with large butterflies worked on net, giving a transparent effect to the butterflies only.

To preserve the corset it may be enveloped in a dainty bag when not being worn. The bag may be of white, pink or blue linen, embroidered in silk and fastened with satin ribbon.

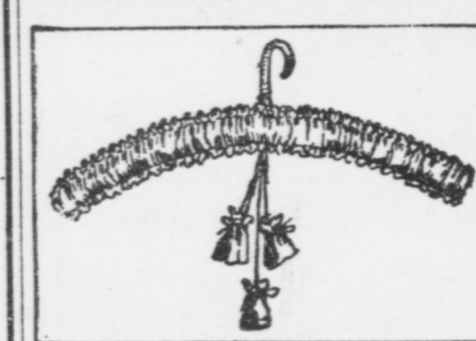

WELL WORTH THE MAKING

Materials for Clothes Hanger Will Cost Insignificant Sum, and the Work Amounts to Little.

All that it needed to make this hanger is a wooden shoulder that can be bought for a few cents, and about two and one-half yards ribbon two and one-half inches wide, and two yards of ribbon one-half inch wide.

First cover the metal hook with the ribbon twisted evenly and closely round it; then the wide ribbon should be cut in two pieces, each nearly half as long again as the wooden shoulder. Place the two pieces together and gather the lower edges; draw up to the length of the wood, which should be laid between them, then the other edges are pulled up to top of wood and gathered together over it; turn in the ends and sew them neatly.

Make three little bags of some of the wide ribbon; fill them with wadding scented with sachet powder in some favorite perfume. Tie up the top of the bags with ribbon, leaving a little trail standing out at top, then attach them to length of narrow ribbon and sew to the shoulder under the hook as shown.

His lights having gone out of commission, a Connecticut motorcyclist visited a railroad yard and stole a couple of signal lamps, and fastened one to the handle-bars and carried the other on his back, by means of a string slung around his neck. He attracted the attention of the police at Winsted and landed in a cell.

SHOE MACHINERY OFFICIAL BLAMES PRESIDENT

Boston, November 19.—One of the most interesting studies of that phase of the political situation which concerns the attitude of "big business" toward the Wilson administration is afforded by the simultaneous publication of an attack on Wilson and the present regulation of business from the pen of an official of the United Shoe Machinery Company, and the issuance of an injunction in the United States District Court in St. Louis against the enforcement of the contracts of the same company.

The injunction was granted on November 10, and on the same day Hon. Louis A. Coolidge, treasurer of the United Shoe, and former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, came out with his broadside in The Capitalist, a Boston publication. The decision of the court and the views of the machinery official are interesting reading.

By United States Court At St. Louis.
"The question before me is whether these clauses (in the United Shoe contracts for use of their machinery by shoe manufacturers) are prohibited by the Clayton act. There can be but one conclusion, and that is that all of the clauses, except one, clearly are violations of the plain words of the statute. There can be no question but that the Clayton Act was aimed directly at the defendant, the United Shoe Machinery Company.

"The defendant insists that the act can only apply to leases made after the law took effect. Counsel for the defendant contends that if the injunction, as prayed for, be granted, terrible damage will be done, not only to the defendant, but to hundreds of manufacturers in the United States who are lessees of the defendant.

"If the course adopted by the defendant has had the effect of stifling competition and creating monopoly, then the law should be enforced, even if it resulted in going back to the awl and wooden peg.

"The continuance of the business heretofore practiced by the defendants and its lessees might and probably would further enrich them, but this would be done at the expense of the men, women and children who, by reason of the monopoly, are forced to buy shoes from such lessees or manufacturers.

"The high prices paid by manufacturers for the use of the defendant's machines fall eventually on those who wear the shoes. It is in the interest of and for the benefit of these that the law was enacted.

"It is hard to see how the ingenuity of man could have devised a scheme that would more effectually create a monopoly than the scheme set forth in the bill in this case."

"The injunction is aimed specifically at that clause in the contracts which authorizes the United Shoe to withdraw its machines from shoe factories in case the contract is violated.

GOOD ROADS

ROADS MUST BE MAINTAINED

No Phase of Public Thoroughfare Problem of More Importance—Keep Surface Well Drained.

There is no phase of the road problem more important than that of maintenance. The general impression that there are certain types of roads that are permanent is erroneous. No permanent road has ever been constructed or ever will be. The only things about a road that may be considered permanent are the grading, culverts and bridges. Roads constructed by the most skillful highway engineers will soon be destroyed by the traffic, frost, rain and wind, unless they are properly maintained. But the life of these roads may be prolonged by systematic maintenance. A poor road will not only be improved by proper maintenance, but may become better in time than a good road without it.

The first and last commandment in earth road maintenance is to keep the surface well drained. To insure good drainage the ditches should be kept open, all obstructions removed and a smooth crown maintained. Except for very stony soil, the road machine or scraper may be used very effectively for this work. The machine should be used once or twice a year, and the work should be done when the soil is damp, so that it will pack and bake into a hard crust. Wide and shallow side ditches should be maintained, with sufficient fall and capacity to dispose of surface water. These ditches can in most cases be constructed and repaired with a road machine.

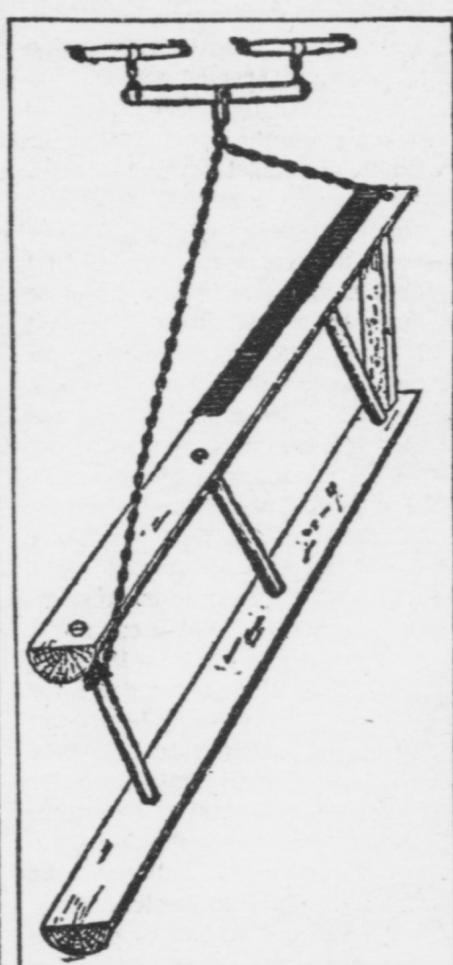

All vegetable matter such as sods and weeds should be kept out of the road, as they make a spongy surface which retains moisture. Clods are also objectionable, for they soon turn to dust or mud, and for that reason roads should never be worked when dry or hard. Bowlders or loose stones are equally objectionable if a smooth surface is to be secured.

A splitting drag or some similar device is very useful in maintaining the surface after suitable ditches and cross sections have once been secured. This drag can also be used to advantage on a gravel road as well as on an earth road. The principle involved in dragging is that clays and moist heavy soils will puddle when wet and set very hard when dry. The little attention that the earth road needs must be given promptly and at the proper time if the best results are to be obtained.

In dragging roads only a small amount of earth is moved, just enough to fill the ruts and depressions with a thin layer of plastic clay or earth which packs very hard, so that the next rain, instead of finding ruts, depressions and clods in which to collect lect, runs off, leaving the surface but little affected.

The drag should be light and should be drawn over the road at an angle of about 45 degrees. The driver should ride on the drag and should not drive faster than a walk. One round trip, each trip studding a wheel track, is usually sufficient to fill the ruts and smooth the surface. If necessary the road should be dragged after every bad spell of weather, when the soil is in proper condition to puddle well and still not adhere to the drag. If the road is very bad it may be dragged when very wet and again when it begins to dry out.

Crown of Earth Road.
The slope or crown of an earth road should be about one inch to the foot. If the crown becomes too high it may be reduced by dragging toward the ditch instead of from it. If the drag cuts too much, shorten the hitch and change your position on the drag. If it is necessary to protect the face of the drag with a strip of iron, it should be placed flush with the edge of the drag and not projecting. A cutting edge should be avoided, as the main object in dragging is to smear the damp soil into position.

WHAT $10 DID FOR THIS WOMAN

The Price She Paid for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Which Brought Good Health.

Danville, Va.—"I have only spent ten dollars on your medicine and I feel so much better than I did when the doctor was treating me. I don't suffer any bearing down pains at all now and I sleep well. I cannot say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills as they have done so much for me. I am enjoying good health now and owe it all to your remedies. I take pleasure in telling my friends and neighbors about them."

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

ATLANTA'S "GRAND HURRAH"

In order to advertise their city, which is another way of saying "to spread the Atlanta spirit," 250 motorcycle riders of that Georgia city chipped in and bought several thousand attractive pennants and then distributed them throughout their home State. These Atlanta missionaries visited practically every town and spread the "grand hurrah" for Atlanta. The campaign was started to show the home folks that the motorcycle riders take as much interest in the welfare of their city as the automobilists.

"The era of regulation and business unrest was due primarily to self-advertising 'lawyers of the people,' labor agitators, politicians and writers to whom it furnished a means of livelihood or political preferment. Brandies and Undermyer are one type; Bryan represents another, and men like Wilson and Redfield are still another. While the agitation was at its height, we never heard about any of these men making a personal sacrifice for the good of the people, by whose wrongs they seemed so deeply moved."

Hundreds of Customers

Waiting For You

Do you know that in this town and farming community there are many hundreds of families who buy a majority of their goods in Maysville, from some merchant or other?

Do you know that YOU might just as well have a large percentage of this business? And do you know that this business is SPOT CASH because the people HAVE THE MONEY and are NOT AFRAID TO SPEND IT?

Do you know that to get this business you must FIRST REACH THE PEOPLE and let them know WHAT YOU HAVE?

Do you know that there is no other paper published that reaches these people as thoroughly and as effectively and with as tight a grip as THE PUBLIC LEDGER does?

The buyers in this community are an intelligent class of people, and they insist on getting something about the goods before they part with their money.

Your advertisement in THE LEDGER will appeal to them because it is THEIR OWN PAPER, and because they KNOW that we do not accept questionable advertisements at any price.

The holiday season, a harvest for merchants, is now on and our people will be buying in large quantities.

Because we feel that you are keen on getting a goodly slice of this business a representative of THE LEDGER will take the liberty of calling upon you within a few days, at which time he will illustrate to you more fully the advantages to be derived from placing a portion of your holiday advertising before a class of people who buy liberally and have the money with which to pay.

Very truly yours,

GEO. H. FRANK & CO.
Maysville's Finest Clothiers

With a large stage at Pittsburg, very little coal was shipped out there because it was needed there.

The rise in the Great Kanawha river will make sufficient water at Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., for the Kanawha towboats to get out with all the Kanawha coal that is loaded at that point for Cincinnati and Southern points.

There will be placed in the river in the near future, at Dam No. 12, Ohio river, Warwood, W. Va., a small temporary cofferdam, which will obstruct navigation for a width of about fifty feet at a point 368 feet out from the river wall of the lock. The navigable channels will be open for a width of 350 feet adjacent to the river wall and 300 feet in width adjacent to the river pier.

The W. C. McCune, a towboat, was burned at Dravosburg. The damage is estimated at $3,000. The boat formerly operated as a packet boat in the Ohio river, operating from Cincinnati. The W. C. McCune was built in Frankfort, Ky., in 1908, was seventy-five feet long, fifteen feet wide and had a gross capacity of thirty-eight tons. The crew of six men were aboard the boat when the fire was discovered escaped to the shore. The boat was owned by Captain Howder and Charles T. Campbell.

WHEN DEPALMA LEARNED HIS LESSON.

Ralph DePalma is, perhaps, one of the squarest automobile racing drivers who ever steered a car. Ralph got into the racing game a score of years ago, when he won a bicycle race at Buffalo, and with the proceeds he paid for the mount which he pedaled to victory.

He learned his lesson, with regard to squariness, in one of his first motorcycle races, the first contest, in fact, which was run by the Federation of American Motorcyclists at the old Manhattan Beach track at Long Island, back in 1903. In that meet Ralph ran under false colors, donning the jersey, hat and goggles of another rider, only to be disqualified and suspended. His suspension, which lasted several years and which kept him out of not only motorcycle contests but automobile and bicycle contests as well, was a bitter pill to the then young speed artist, and it likewise cost him a pretty penny. But he learned his lesson, and not since then has Ralph DePalma done a thing deserving of even a reprimand from a race referee.

MUD AND MORE MUD.

The citizens of East Second street thinking seriously of buying a moboat to use on their street, which is in a very bad condition. The city did do something for this street by the heavy hauling of the toadsen starts.

onlight school has been organized among the colored people by Dr. E. Gardner, county school superintendent of Nicholas. There is a attendance and the old people taking much interest in the school and are pleased with the idea of being taught to read and write.

WEAK AND TIRED WOMAN

Tells How Vinol Made Her Strong.

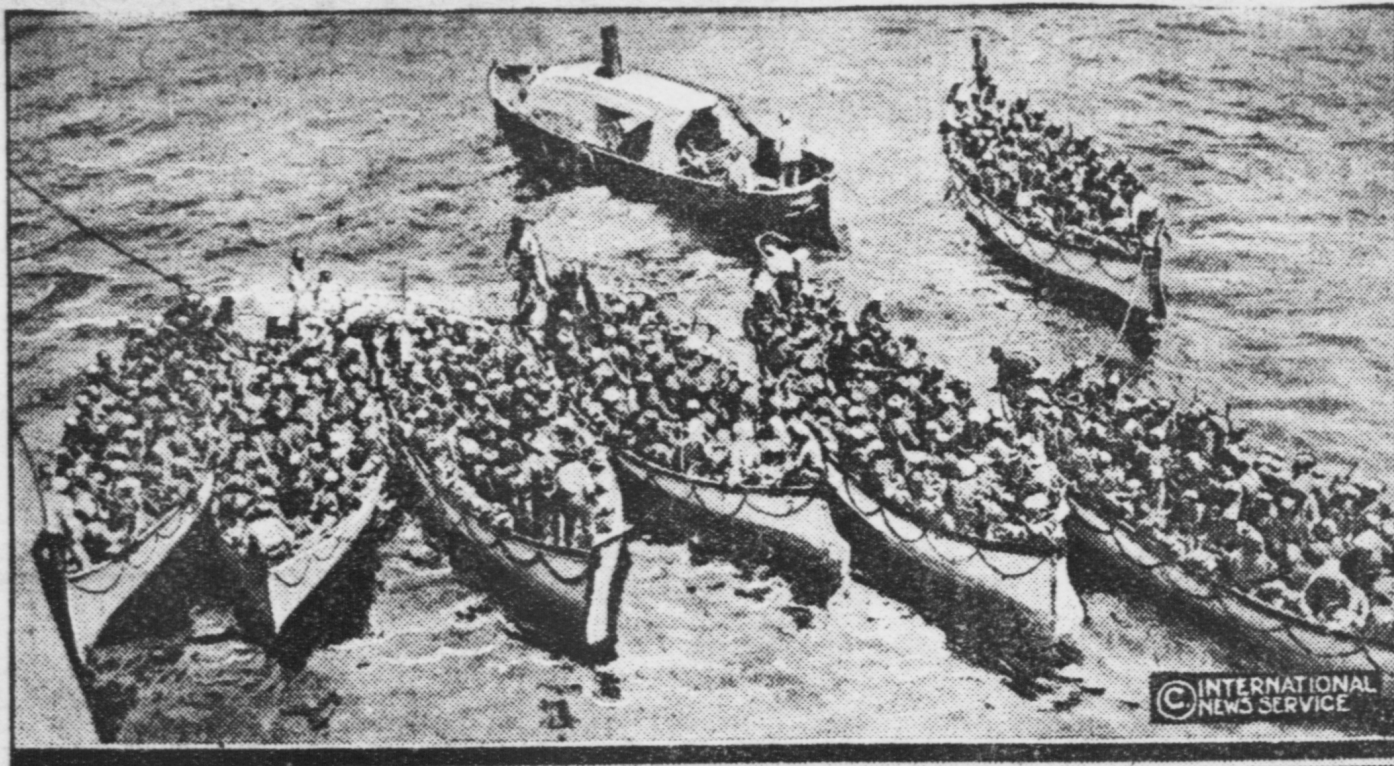

Maysville women who are weak, run down and suffer from the consequent effects of such a condition, will be interested in Mrs. Odell's letter. She

"I am a farmer's wife and was all run-down, weak, tired, and suffered from indigestion, and sometimes it seemed as though I could not keep around and do my housework. I had taken many medicines without benefit. One day I saw Vinol advertised, and made up my mind to try it. I have taken four bottles and have gained seven pounds in weight, am much stronger, and feel many years younger than before." Sarah Odell, Lockport, N. Y.

The reason Vinol builds up weak, run-down women so quickly is because it contains a delicious combination of the three most successful elements of iron to enrich and vitalize the blood, the strength-giving, body-building elements of fresh livers without oil, and beef pep to say to every weak, run-down woman in Maysville, "I will return your money if I don't help you as it did Mrs. Odell." Company, Maysville, Ky.

"NEARLY A LADY"

To Be Star Attraction At Washington Theater Tonight With Elsie Janis, the Comedienne, In the Cast.

That a fork was ever meant for anything but spearing bread never dawned on Frederica Calhoun until the arrival at her father's big Montana ranch of Lord Cecil Grosvenor, a prospective buyer. He opened her simple Western eyes to an hitherto undreamed of world of refinement and good form, and she in turn appealed to his imagination by her crack riding, her beautiful lariat dances which the cowboy boys had taught her, and her unfailing sweet disposition and sunny, bubbling good spirits.

But on their betrothal, with its subsequent visit to Lord Grosvenor's sister, a New York society woman, the idyl showed a flaw. Redfern gowns, afternoon teas and the formal social routine of the patrician Knickerbockers did wonders for Frederica, transforming the cocoon into a butterfly. But to Grosvenor it was demoralizing.

Scene From "Nearly a Lady."

and word of his escapades reached Frederica's ears. The night of the French ball she borrowed a suit of men's evening clothes and hid by a stage door where with her own eyes she saw her fiancée come out with the dashing show girl with which his name had been connected. Indeed, Frederica's "young man" makeup was so complete that Grosvenor grew jealous when Frederica eyed his companion so straight and hard.

The fatal breach was widened when Frederica's prospective sister-in-law peeked into her room after her return and, deceived as her brother had been, felt it her duty to inform him she had seen "a man." This Frederica spiritedly admitted inasmuch as the "man" was none other than herself, but Grosvenor presumed to wax furious, and the absurdity of such a stand disgusted her and she tossed the Englishman over.

As a matter of fact she was glad of the excuse for she had all the time been playing straight with him only at the expense of holding off an old Montana sweetheart who had come to New York and made good. Her hands free, Frederica returned to a man whose word she knew was good as his bond, and thanking her stars she had learned in time that man was not to be judged by the way he handled a fork.

VETERAN EDITOR

Of Eastern Kentucky Enters the Soldiers' Home At Dayton, O.

Spencer Cooper, the veteran founder and editor of the Hazel Green Herald, the oldest newspaper in the Kentucky mountains, which has been in existence for almost a third of a century, last week entered the National Soldiers' Home at Dayton, O. Mr. Cooper has been in ill health for some time and the weight of years of toil has told heavily upon him. He is well known among the newspaper fraternity all over Kentucky, especially among those of the older school.

DEATH OF MRS. JOHN STRAUSBAUGH.

Mrs. John Strausbaugh, mother of Mrs. Charles Wise, of the West End, with whom she made her home, died Thursday morning.

Mrs. Strausbaugh was 81 years of age and had been an invalid for years. She is survived by seven children: Mrs. A. J. Norris, of Covington; Mrs. Robert Snapp, Mrs. Charles Wise, Henry J. Thomas, William and Frederick, all of the county; also one sister, Mrs. Rebecca Ann Johnson, of Moransburg.

Carl Jones, 22, was killed by falling slate in the Yellow Creek mines. Young Jones had attended the funeral of his wife the day before, she having died a few weeks after their marriage.

THE PASSING OF BOOKER T. WASHINGTON.

With the passing of Booker T. Washington, the colored race loses its most progressive character.

Dr. Washington was born in slavery near Hale's Ford, Va., in 1857 or 1858. After the emancipation he moved to Malden, W. Va., in his youth he was ambitious for an education and just as soon as he had saved sufficient money to pay his stagecoach fare to Hampton, Va., he entered school there under General Armstrong. He worked his way through the school, being graduated in 1875. He taught in the school until 1881, when he organized the Industrial School for Negroes, which became his life work. From a rented shanty church, the institute has grown until today it owns 2,500 acres of land in Alabama and has nearly 500 buildings worth $500,000.

Perhaps his greatest speech was the one he delivered at the Cotton States Exposition, at Atlanta, in 1895, in behalf of his race. It won for him the sympathy and support of the leading Southerners. He was not only an educator, but was an author of some note. In 1896, Harvard University conferred the honorary degree of Master of Arts upon him, and in 1901, the degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred by Dartmouth College.

He had been failing in health for some time, and his condition became serious last week while he was in the East on a lecture tour. He realized the end was near, but determined to make the trip home. He said, "I was born in the South, have lived all my life in the South and expect to die and be buried in the South."

He reached home at midnight Saturday and died at 4:40 o'clock Sunday morning. His death was caused by a nervous breakdown.

The great lesson of his life is that strong purpose backed by hard work will win over all obstacles.

A CALL.

Our community was deeply shocked on Monday, November 15, in reading through the Associated Press of the death of Hon. Booker T. Washington, an educator of renown reputation, a thinker of diplomatic abilities and a leader of his people. He stood first in the heart of his race.

In view of his untimely ending, an irreparable loss to both the country and his race is sustained. We bow in humble grief with all our citizens, irreparable loss to both the country and his race.

Therefore, we, the undersigned, call upon all people to meet in a mass meeting at the Bethel Baptist church on Sunday, November 21, at 2:30 p. m., in order that suitable resolutions in testimony of his worth and work may be adopted, and eulogies befitting the life and character of this great and noble man be heard from those who loved and honored the name of Booker T. Washington. We plead with and urge upon all the people to attend this meeting that proper respect may be shown.

WOMEN FOR FEDERAL CHILD LABOR LAW.

Three State federations of women's clubs went on record in one week as favoring the Federal bill to prohibit the shipment in interstate commerce of child-made goods. They were Pennsylvania, Indiana and New Jersey federations, representing more than 15,000 women.

The action taken by these women is the direct result of the National Child Labor Committee's second campaign for the Federal child labor law. The bill which the committee has drafted will be introduced in Congress early in December and is similar in form to the Palmer-Owen bill which passed the House of Representatives last year by an overwhelming majority, but which was defeated in the Senate by the objection of Senator Overman of North Carolina. If the bill passes, it will prohibit the shipment in interstate commerce of goods in the production of which children under 14 have been employed in factories, or under 16 more than eight hours a day or at night, or under 16 in mines and quarries.

Endorsements and offers of co-operation from organizations and individuals are daily pouring into the offices of the National Child Labor Committee and the committee is confident that the bill will be passed by the next Congress.

Mr. J. T. Mayo, of Paintsville, was in this city Thursday on legal business.

Mr. L. N. Hull, of Flemingsburg, was in this city Thursday.

SOME CAPITAL

Kentucky Corporation Is One of the Big Things In Money Matters.

The Elkhorn Mining Company and the Elkhorn Fuel Company, which have operated extensively in Eastern Kentucky under the same general management, have completed a reorganization plan by which the two companies will be consolidated under the name of the Elkhorn Coal Corporation, with the enormous capitalization of $28,500,000, of which $22,000,000 is to be common stock and $6,500,000 is to be first preferred stock. The new corporation will also issue $5,500,000 in 6 per cent ten-year notes which may be redeemable at any interest date at 105. Of the preferred stock, $4,500,000 will be issued to the Fidelity Trust Company and Mercantile Trust & Deposit Company, of Maryland; one million dollars will be reserved for future development, and the remainder will be issued only to refund the gold notes of the Elkhorn Fuel Company. An interesting financial arrangement is that after the preferred stock dividend and a 6 per cent common stock dividend has been declared, the common and preferred stock shall share equally in additional earnings, which will give the preferred stock a very high potential earning power. The property acquired consists of 200,000 acres of well known Elkhorn by-product and coking coal lands in Floyd, Knott, Letcher, Magoffin and Pike counties, with fourteen operating mines, having a developed capacity of 3,000,000 tons annually and producing at the present time at the rate of about 1,500,000 tons, which is being increased as fast as labor can be secured. The meeting of the stockholders will be held November 23. The Elkhorn Coal Corporation will be incorporated under the laws of Virginia.

There have been 483 marriage licenses issued in Portsmouth this year.

THE WASHINGTON.

The management of the Washington Opera House delighted a large crowd of patrons Thursday evening when they flashed on the screen as their leading film the Kalem drama, "The Double Identity." This was one of the most stirring films shown in this city for some time and many compliments were passed on it. One of George Ade's famous fables was the second film to be shown. "The Fable of the Roystering Blades" delighted all who saw it, as it was up to the standard of the Ade comedies. "Reapers of the Whirlwind," a Biography drama, was also shown.

ANNIVERSARY OF FAMOUS GETTYSBURG ADDRESS.

Fifty-two years ago today, President Abraham Lincoln delivered his famous Gettysburg address at Gettysburg, Pa., an address that has lived through the years and will live forever as the crowning effort of American oratory. We here reproduce it in full:

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our power to add or detract. The world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated to the great task remaining before us; that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Manchester Signal: F. A. McCormick and J. E. McNeil, of the local tobacco warehouse, and S. S. Jones and S. A. Sutterfield, of the West Union house, made a trip through northern Kentucky last week, visiting Maysville, Louisville, Frankfort and Lexington, the leading tobacco markets of the world. They returned Saturday and reported a delightful trip.

Senator James urged President Wilson to reappoint C. C. McChord of Kentucky, to the Interstate Commerce Commission. His term expires December 31. Senator James says he felt confident Mr. McChord, who is a Democrat, would be reappointed.

STOLE A MARCH

On His Maysville Friends and Married a Fleming County Widow.

Colonel Samuel P. Bridges, one of the best known young-old men in this community, whose friends are legion and who extend congratulations with The Ledger, on Wednesday was married at Flemingsburg, as the following from the Times-Democrat shows: "Samuel P. Bridges, 75, of Mason county, and Mrs. S. A. Stoddard, 70, The bride is the widow of the late S. C. Stoddard, of near Ewing, and is the mother of fourteen children, while the groom is a widower, but we did not learn the number of his family. We wish them much happiness."

"Uncle Sam" has been making his home with his son-in-law, Mr. Ed. S. Cloninger, in Columbus, O., where they together have for the last several years conducted a successful business in the manufacture of ginger ale and mineral waters of various kinds, and while on one of his visits here this week he quietly went over to Fleming and got married.

The happy couple will reside in Columbus for awhile.

AVOID FAKIRS

Editor Jim Allen Gives Some Sound Advice That Would Be Good For Maysvillians.

We always have imagined that P. T. Barnum was at one time a business man in a small town, for it was he who is said to have coined the phrase, "The public likes to be hum-bugged." We always think of Barnum whenever we see a crowd gather around a street-corner fakir and pay him their good money for stuff that a local business house would not dare try to sell. Yet there are hundreds of people swindled by every fakir who comes along and remain anxious to give the next one still more of their money.

Consistency of business, Mr. Man or Mrs. Woman, should show you that you will always get better value from your home merchant than will ever be given you by any one else. The home firm has its reputation to maintain. Heed the invitation of men you know.
